

Conclusion : Code written in MPI (with 4 processors) shows a much smaller time difference (in seconds) then both the openACC and serial code. It can be concluded that serial is the slowest, in fact, I stopped at $L=2^n$ where n is 10.